TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

Look at tongue! Then give fruit laxative for stomach, liver, bowels.

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm children and they love it.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and your child will be a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—(Adv.)

NAVAL EXPLOIT GUARDED SECRET

Decision to Send Cruiser Vindictive to Ostend Followed Recent Raid.

ZEEBRUGGE AGAIN BOMBED

By Strong Allied Flying Squadrons—Berlin Reports No Military Damage.

(International News Service.)
Dover, England, May 10.—The decision to send the Vindictive to Ostend was made a few days after her return from the Zeebrugge raid, and the task of filling her with concrete was begun immediately.

As in the joint raid on Zeebrugge and Ostend, this latest British naval exploit was kept a well-guarded secret. As an evidence of this it is recalled that after the battle-scarred cruiser returned from Zeebrugge an urgent request was made that she be sent up the Thames to London for public view. The authorities did not encourage the proposal, however, and the agitation subsided. All the time the old vessel was being overhauled for her last voyage.

Berlin Says No Damage Done.

(Associated Press.)
Amsterdam, May 10.—Strong allied flying squadrons bombed the mole and the village of Zeebrugge, the German submarine base on the Belgian coast, at noon and in the evening Thursday. No military damage was done, according to an official statement issued in Berlin. Two of the hostile airplanes were shot down by German airmen.

Report Not Confirmed.

(Associated Press.)
London, May 10.—Regarding reports that German submarines have been unable to enter Flemish ports and have had to return to Germany, Reuters, Limited, says it is unable to obtain confirmation in naval quarters. Photographic and other evidence from Zeebrugge shows that the Bruges canal is still entirely blocked as a result of the British raid of April 23, and that it cannot be used. The obstructions, it has been found, were better placed than was at first supposed. German attempts to clear the waterway are meeting with no success as a result of British air activity and other causes.

GEN. CATES REPLIES TO CHAIRMAN HILL

Shortness of Time Allowed Candidates to Present Names Is Point of Objection.

(Special to The News.)
Knoxville, May 10.—When asked whether he desired to make any reply to the interview published by Judge L. D. Hill in the Nashville Banner, Gen. Charles T. Cates said:

"I notice that Judge Hill states that he is 'constrained to believe' that I overlooked the provisions of Section 20 of the primary law; but I want to assure him that I had not overlooked the provisions of that or any other section of the law in question, and the provisions of the particular section referred to by him are not pertinent in reply to the interview given out by me several days ago in which I referred to the action of the state committee in giving candidates unacquainted with the intention of that committee in advance only eleven days to confer with their friends in the ninety-six counties of the state in order to secure proper representation among the nominations to be made by the county executive committees May 18.

"The point, the judge and I will make is, that the time afforded by the state committee is entirely too short for any candidate for senator, governor or railroad commissioner, not advised in advance as to the probable action of the committee, to secure representation on the county boards. It is fair to assume that Judge Hill, chairman of the state committee, was fully aware of the provisions of the primary law and the time within which candidates are required to qualify, so that it would have been an easy matter for the chairman of the executive committee to call it together a month in advance of any date fixed for the meeting of the county committees and any one who has given consideration to this matter knows that it would require at least a month to fairly cover the state. I don't know whether Judge Hill had sought to do with the preparation of the primary law, but it was prepared in a large part at least by one member of his committee during conference with the senior senator, who was then in Nashville, as he says in different letters, the passage of this particular law, so that to these gentlemen his full provisions were certainly known.

"Of course Judge Hill will not deny that he and at least one other member of his committee have been recently in conference not only with the senior senator, but his representative in Tennessee in relation to the action of the state committee; and the mere statement of the action of the committee in limiting the candidates unacquainted in advance with what it proposed to do in eleven days in which to cover the state shows its unfairness. Judge Hill refers to the unanimous action upon the part of the committee. I don't mean to say that all of the members of the committee who attended its meeting were advised in advance as to what action it was proposed to take, but certain members of the committee were so advised and in all probability the unfairness of such action and the short time provided therefor did not occur to many members of said committee.

"I desire further to call to the attention of the democracy of Tennessee that in this state alone, of all the states in the Union, federal officials are members of the state executive committee. We are fighting Kaiserism in Europe, and we are just as ready to fight Kaiser methods and autocratic domination of political committees in Tennessee.

"The chairman of the committee seems to feel that his statement reflected upon the integrity of the committee. But I would call to the attention of the democracy of Tennessee that I merely stated facts, and if those facts amount to a reflection upon the committee, then it is not I who reflect, but the committee reflecting upon itself.

"I shall probably have more to say about this matter."

WHAT RUMANIA GIVES UP

Shaded territory on the east (Dobruja) shows the district Rumania surrenders to the central powers under her new peace treaty. She keeps a trade route through this territory to Constanza, on the Black sea. North of Dobruja is Bessarabia, which Rumania may be allowed to take from Russia—if she can. "Frontier rectifications" in the north and west will give Austria-Hungary entire control of three important passes through the mountains, indicated on the map. Bulgaria and Hungary also will take the shaded territory in the west from Rumania and Serbia, to give German allies complete control of the Danube river.

FURTHER ATTEMPTS TO DRIVE THROUGH BEHIND YPRES EXPECTED FROM ENEMY

(Associated Press.)
British and French troops south-west of Ypres, having firmly re-established the line attacked on Wednesday, are awaiting the next move by the Germans in their efforts to drive through behind Ypres. The latest repulse was the second the Germans have suffered along the Voormezeele line, since the capture of Mont Kemmel, but further attempts by the enemy are expected.

Attention is being paid by the Germans to the British line north of the Somme in Picardy, and for the first time in several weeks the enemy again has attempted to advance his lines west of Albert. In a local attack against the British, after suffering heavy losses, the Germans have captured 150 yards of the first British line, but were repulsed elsewhere. A similar local operation at Bouzincourt, north of Albert, was smashed by the fire of British rifles and machine guns. Elsewhere along the Flanders and Somme battlefields only the artillery has been active. Paris reports violent firing in the sector north of Montdidier to Hallier.

Latest reports indicate the German effort in the north was to have been in great strength, but that the British artillery on the east and a French infantry attack and barrage on the west broke up the enemy divisions waiting to join the attack. As a result only two divisions attacked on the scanty miles between Voormezeele and La Clytte. After much heavy fighting these troops had gained nothing and had sustained heavy losses.

Berlin reports the capture of 675 Anglo-French troops in successful attacks.

The weather has improved in northern France. Allied airmen, however, have taken advantage of the change from rainy conditions to drop many tons of bombs on important railway and concentration centers behind the German lines. In air fighting, British aviators have accounted for twenty-nine German machines, twenty-two of which were destroyed. One enemy airplane was brought down by rifle fire.

Rostov-on-the-Don, the largest city in the Don Cossack territory and near the mouth of the Don river, has been occupied by the Germans.

Premier Lloyd George and his government have passed successfully another situation which threatened to provoke a crisis and the probable retirement of the ministry. The government won in the house of commons when the members, by a vote of 293 to 106, refused to accept the motion of former Premier Asquith that a select committee investigate the charges made by Maj.-Gen. Maurice. The premier addressed the house and denied that he or any other minister had misled the public as to the status of the British army as charged by the former chief director of military operations at the war office.
